To Participants in the World
Journalism Education Congress
(2010)

Dear Sir/Madam,

As a strong supporter of the WJEC in 2010, UNESCO is pleased to learn about a possible follow-up with journalism schools collaborating to embrace the annual celebration of World Press Freedom Day on 3 May.

UNESCO has been involved in World Press Freedom Day since its origins at the Windhoek Conference in 1991, and our Organisation was instrumental in the recognition of the anniversary by the United Nations General Assembly.

Our Organisation also has a long history of supporting journalism education around the world, particularly through our International Programme for the Development of Communication (IPDC).

Any efforts by journalism schools to involve their students in acknowledging and commemorating the 3 May each year, on an international scale, dovetail well with core concerns of UNESCO.

This inspired initiative deserves widespread support and we recommend our own website <http://www.unesco.org/webworld/en/wpfd2011> as a resource to assist in your endeavours.

Yours sincerely,

Jānis Kārklīņš
